The focus of these procedures is to:

- comply with the general and continuous disclosure principles contained in the Australian Stock Exchange Limited ("ASX") Listing Rules and the Corporations Act 2001;
- ensure announcements are accurate, balanced and expressed in a clear and objective manner that allows investors to access the impact of the information when making investment decisions; and
- ensure that all market participants have equal opportunities to receive externally available information issued by Stavelly.

Price sensitive information is publicly released through ASX before it is disclosed to shareholders and market participants. Distribution of other information to shareholders and market participants is also managed through disclosure to the ASX.

2. MATERIAL INFORMATION

Management and staff must inform the Managing Director or Company Secretary of any potentially material information or proposal as soon as practicable after becoming aware of that information.

Information is material if it is likely that the information would influence investors in deciding whether to buy or sell Stavelly securities.

Material information need not be disclosed if all of the following are satisfied:

- o the information is confidential and the ASX has not formed the view that the information has ceased to be confidential; and

The Company Secretary is the Authorised Officer for Listing Rule purposes.

Stavely must not, under any circumstances, disclose material information to the market prior to the ASX releasing the information to the market. If unreleased material information is unintentionally communicated, by Stavely or an employee, in any forum, the Managing Director, or in his absence, the Company Secretary, must be advised immediately so the market can be informed.

The nature and extent of verification will depend upon the subject matter of the announcement but should include confirmation as to the accuracy of facts where necessary from management and may include a review and input from Stavely's external advisers (where necessary).

Leaks, rumours and inadvertent disclosure. The Company's general policy is not to respond to reports or rumours about it published by analysts, fund managers or reporters.

From time to time, however, it may be necessary to respond to the unauthorised or selective disclosure of information or market rumours concerning the Company, particularly where the information or rumour is having, or likely to have, an impact on the price of the Company's securities. Such an event may trigger an enquiry from the ASX under Listing Rule 3.1B. To ensure a consistent response from the Company to such occurrences, all instances of unauthorised or selective disclosure or rumours should be reported to the Managing Director or Company Secretary as soon as they become known.

Assessment of the Company's response. When a matter is reported, the Managing Director or Company Secretary will discuss the significance of the matter and possible disclosure responses with the Chair.

If the information the subject of the unauthorised or selective disclosure is considered material, or there is a significant market rumour concerning the Company that is having or is likely to have an impact on the price of the Company's securities, the Company Secretary will co-ordinate the development of a disclosure response to ASX.

The Managing Director or Company Secretary will circulate the draft announcement to the Board and relevant management and external advisers for review. Once the review process has been completed, the Company Secretary will disclose the information to ASX.

A one-on-one briefing includes any communication between Stavely and a broker, analyst, fund manager, or institutional investor including phone calls.

No previously undisclosed material information may be disclosed at these meetings. If an employee considers that previously undisclosed material information has been disclosed, they must immediately inform the Managing Director or Company Secretary so that the previously undisclosed information can be released to the market.

ANNEXURE A – FACTORS TO ASSESS INDEPENDENCE

ASX CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COUNCIL'S CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES AND RECOMMENDATIONS 4TH EDITION – RECOMMENDATION 2.3

A Director is characterised and described as an independent Director if he or she is free of any interest, position or relationship that might influence, or reasonably be perceived to influence, in a material respect their capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of the Company as a whole rather than in the interests of an individual securityholder or other party.

Factors relevant to assessing the independence of a Director.

Examples of interests, positions and relationships that might raise issues about the independence of a Director of an entity include if the Director:

- is, or has been, employed in an executive capacity by the Company or any of its child entities and there has not been a period of at least three years between ceasing such employment and serving on the Board;
- receives performance-based remuneration (including options or performance rights) from, or participates in an employee incentive scheme of the Company;
- is, or has been within the last three years, in a material business relationship (eg as a supplier, professional adviser or consultant) with the Company or any of its child entities, or is an officer of, or otherwise associated with, someone with such a relationship;
- is, represents, or is or has been within the last three years an officer or employee of, or professional adviser to, a substantial holder;
- has close personal ties with any person who falls within any of the categories described above; or
- has been a Director of the entity for such a period that their independence from management and substantial holders may have been compromised.

In each case, the materiality of the interest, position or relationship needs to be assessed by the Board to determine whether it might interfere, or might reasonably be seen to interfere, with the Director's capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of the Company as a whole rather than in the interests of an individual security holder or other party

The materiality thresholds are assessed on a case-by-case basis, taking into account the relevant Director's specific circumstances, rather than referring to a general materiality threshold.

Where a Director falls within one or more of these examples, the Board is likely to rule the Director not to be independent unless it is clear that the interest, position or relationship in question is not material and will not interfere with the Director's capacity to bring an independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of the Company as a whole rather than in the interests of an individual security holder or other party.
